Your Most Valuable Possession

6:49 A.M. Friday, November 20

Good morning, Mr. Ben, it's about 6:30 Winston-Salem, North Carolina Just laying here in the bed, half awake, half asleep Thinking about you, uh

I was, uh, wondering if you were looking after your Most valuable possession, your mind I was thinking about John Glenn His space journey and all

They said that when you're in space You lose muscle mass and the body mass And I wondered if there was any end to it Or whether if you didn't exercise in space

How long it would be for you were just A head or a mind and have no body or arms You would have them But you couldn't use them

I was wondering if, uh
If your body mass would drop to a certain level
And then it would stop right there
And keep whatever you needed to use your mind

'Cause it would still be working Thirty seconds remaining Anyway, I was just pondering that What do you think about that?

I hope everything is going alright I'm going to wake up here in a little while And forget what I was thinking about
