Frown Song

Ben Folds

Tread slowly from the car to the spa Like a weary war-torn refugee Crossing the border with her starving child It's a struggle just to get to shiatsu Present the waitress with your allergy card And tell all of your problems. Leave no tip at all Down at the shoe store with your friends Speculate who might be fucking a guru.

Rock on, rock on with your fashionable frown Rock on, rock on. Spread the love around. Rock on, rock on with a fashionable frown. Spread the love around.

Hard to remember how we managed before We could afford real and nervous breakdowns Or before the anthropology store Was erected on Indian burial grounds So really don't you see a little of yourself in the bathroom at tendant that you just scowled at? Or the child who's hiding inside as you wipe the smile off a te enage barista.

Spread the love around. Alright.

You're gonna be alright, baby. You're gonna be alright, baby.

Floating back from the spa to the car. State of bliss, and it wasn't the steam room. Sometimes life's not so bad. Now we know who's been fucking the guru.

Smile for us now. Do it upside down.
