

Start Again

Ben Haenow

And now I
I'm running out of time so let me tell you from the start from the start yeah you put a fire in my heart in my heart yeah and it stay never changed and I will never give it up, give it up, yeah no I will never give you up, give you up, yeah we rise our voices
'til there's no secrets and we break and we mend, pick it up and we start again
I know we are not perfect
we can't pretend
'cause we're fine and forget and we just start again when we fight we forget yeah we just start again all the scars all the hurt for a minute then it's alright, it's alright it's like we die and then we come back to life and we hope on to open up and we can feel it when it's wrong, when it's wrong yeah but we need it when it's gone, when it's gone yeah
till there's no secrets
and we break and we mend pick it up
i know we're not perfect
'cause we're fine and forget yeah
we don't need to tell the moment I'm not sleeping till it's over we know we're all gonna do this again we can't ever let it go
and we rise our voices
we just start again
when we fight we forget yeah
