

Faded

Ben Harper

You so easily amuse
like a pantomime
such a silent crime

You so easily abuse
lack of confidence
it's your best offense

You so easily confuse you can't deny it still you try to hide it

Faded
so faded
like a memory gone
there's no recollection
Faded
so faded
like a forgotten dream
further than it seems

You so hastily defy when you think you need it you find a way to bleed it

You so hastily deny pleading innocence
it's your best defense

You so hastily reply
the moment that you said it already regret it

Faded
so faded
like a memory gone
there's no recollection
Faded
so faded
like a forgotten dream
