

Pray That Our Love Sees the Dawn

Ben Harper

Silence is the hammer of betrayal;
Upon love's coffin for the final nail.
Disguised as one another for so long now.
I try to be myself but I forget how.

Pray that our love sees the dawn.
Pray that our love sees the dawn.
My last line of defense is gone.
Pray that our love sees the dawn.

Homeless family stands outside the church house
Trying so hard to believe.
Desperately waiting for an answer to the candle they lit
To end their grief.

Pray that our love sees the dawn.
Pray that our love sees the dawn.
The conspiracy of whispers are not wrong.
Pray that our love sees the dawn.

Traded a ghost for my pain.
Traded an echo for the sound of my name.
And if our love was just a burning flame,
Then we could melt away all of our blame.

Pray that our love sees the dawn.
Pray that our love sees the dawn.
We've knocked our bones together for so long.
Pray that our love sees the dawn.

Pray that our love sees the dawn.
Pray that our love sees the dawn.
Our last line of defense is gone.
Pray that our love sees the dawn.
