The Way You Found Me

Ben Harper

The more I smoke, the more I drink The more I talk, the less I think The less I think, the more I feel Folks don't change They just reveal

My mind is broke, my last nerve is shot What you want from me, I ain't got Two plus two will never be twenty-two So please don't tell me twice what I need to do

There's no rules to lust Only passion, and it can be so unjust If we don't speak, we'll get along just fine Don't ask me how I'm doing 'cause I don't feel like lying

Take me as I am Or leave me the way you found me
