

Time Is Dancing

Ben Howard

Wrapped up in desolace,
I'm sorry I just want to wait
Lost in the insignificant of mine,
I had no words to sing
Now I am bitter and poor
You say it isn't right
But somewhere deep in history
A father proved your teeth out in the fight

Hold it in, dear, let's go dancing
I do believe we're only passing through
Wired again now look who's laughing,
You again, oh you, oh you, oh you

Hold it in, dear, let's go dancing
I do believe we're only passing through
Wired again now look who's laughing,
Me again, all fired up on you

Now she's caught between
What to say and what she really means

Wrapped up in empathy,
The chemicals are pushing passed my blood
Hold on my cliches
Yeah dipping my tongue I tell you that is love

Hold it in, dear, let's go dancing
I do believe we're only passing through
Wired again now look who's laughing,
You again, oh you, oh you, oh you

Hold it in, dear, let's go dancing
I do believe we're only passing through
Wired again now look who's laughing,
Me again, all fired up on you

And now she's caught between
What to say and what she really means
And I am finally colouring, inside the lines that I live between

Hold it in, dear, let's go dancing
I do believe we're only passing through
Wired again now look who's laughing,
You again, oh you, oh you, oh you

Hold it in, dear, let's go dancing
I do believe we're only passing through
Wired again now look who's laughing,
Me again, all fired up on you