Slow Down

All of my answers and all my reasons

And all my excuses they never asked Cause all of my answers they keep on changing I spend my life waiting for the next...

No, I just keep on moving No, I just keep on pushing forward No, I forgot what I was looking for

And all their illusions, I won't believe them I'll always believe what I can't forget Cause all of their reasons, they keep on changing I spend my life waiting for the next...

No, I just keep on moving No, I just keep on pushing forward No, I forgot what I was looking for

I'd trade wisdom back in for innocence To get away from all my lies I'd trade wisdom back in for innocence To get away from getting by I'd trade wisdom back in for innocence Just for one look through those eyes
