

Another Day

Beneath The Sky

I can't be without you, though I'm learning that i have to, and it hurts my heart.
I stare at a picture, there's no warmth in this frame, and it's still called another day.

And though the years, will pass you so quickly (i hope you know
)
I'll be here if ever you may need me.
But it's all my fault for bringing on this pain.
I locked my vaults and threw away the keys
So dwell it out of me so quickly
I need you to know i didn't plan for this.
And while you grow i wanna be there for it.
Please promise I'll get that chance another day

Well I've been without you each night, it keeps me up wide awak e, a different place.
I'm only doing what i know how to do.
To best provide for you.
Though i can't spend my time with you.

And though the years, will pass you so quickly (i hope you know
)
I'll be here if ever you may need me.
But it's all my fault for bringing on this pain.
I locked my vaults and threw away the keys
So kill it out of me so quickly
I need you to know i didn't plan for this.
And while you grow, i wanna see all of it.
Please promise me I'll get the chance another day.

Its all my fault for bringing on this pain.
I locked my vaults and threw away the keys
I need you to know i didn't plan for this.
And while you grow i wanna be there for it.
(I don't wanna wait)
Please promise I'll get that chance another day
Please promise me I'll get another chance to prove to her anothe r day
Another day
