

You Just Know

Bernard Butler

Do you believe in every breath I ever take?
Do you believe that I know every move I make?
You can't keep crying over chances I must take.
Love I don't care if my feet are in the air,
and there's one thing I will share - you just know.
Lover I don't care if my feet are in the air,
'cos there's one thing I will share - you just know,
yeah you just know.
Do you know just how many hands I've had to shake?
Do you think I know every place I've ever played?
Well I know you worry but this is it I'm afraid.
Lover I don't care if my feet are in the air,
and there's one thing I will share - you just know.
Lover I don't care 'cos my hands are in the air,
and there's one thing I will share - you just know,
yeah you just know,
you just know.
