".. This song is dedicated to Jennifer Berg that lost her world 00-05-28"  $\,$

Carry on even if it's hard, with love Klas

Give her love and protection Give her all, all the things she need Give her faith and a reason Make her feel brighter than the sun

Tell her that she is special Tell her that she is valuable Carry on for tomorrow Carry on even if it's hard

Leave him in the sunset 28

To remember the moments in the sun

And the diamond that lost her world today

Will keep on shining brighter than the sun

Ease her pain and her guilts
Tell her that no one really knows
Help her find new soloutions
Help her while she is still a child

And so it was time to leave him Without no farewell We will never forget the moments in the sun But the diamond That lost her world that day Will keep on shining brighter than the sun

Leave him in the sunset 28

To remember the moments in the sun

And the diamond that lost her world today

Will keep on shining brighter than the sun
