

Hallelujah

Beth Nielsen Chapman

Hallelujah, here we are now
At the same fork in the road
We don't know why, we can't say how
We're still carrying this long

Crashed through anger
Walked in blindness
Stormed the boundaries
Day and night

If we could just remember kindness
Would it matter who is right?
Would it matter who is right?

And all I ever wanted
Was a love that I could say was mine
A heart of gold, if only
It could last a lifetime

Hallelujah, here we are now
At the entrance to the caves
If we stand and face our shadows
Maybe this love can be saved

But I can't wake up in your darkness
I've got darkness of my own
But there's sacred light between us
That's enough to guide us home
That's enough to get us home

And all I ever wanted
Was a love that I could say was mine
A heart of gold, if only
It could last a lifetime

Sweet love's coming back around this time
Sweet love finally found this heart of mine
Sweet love opened up my eyes
Love that I can see forever
Baby, it is now or never

Sweet love, everything I have with you
Sweet love, test it 'til it's tried and true

Sweet love, all that we've been through
Baby, after everything you still make me sing
Hallelujah
