

Reason

Beth Nielsen Chapman

True love knows the way
Across the sea of time
Straight to the place we long to find.
It's true, love can take a promise I know lies
It paints those pretty blue and sunny skies.

Good souls lost at sea
Caught up in storms like these
Would never leave the land behind
Maybe that's the reason love is blind.

True love knows the sound
the wind is yet to play
Knows every word your heart would say
Each breath rolls along
The trees begin to sway
The melody will carry us away

So love dance me home
Into that Great Unknown
Too far to ever change my mind
Maybe that's the reason love is blind.
