

Flesh and Blood

Beth Orton

Gonna lay my cruelty down
Getting tired of the sound
All the ways I use to hurt myself
All is sky and all is sea
Our days are spaces between dreams
She'll be your first, I could be your last

Ever it is I'm not going to change it
Ever it is I'm not gonna name it
What will be I'm certain I don't know

We have today and that is forever
Life after life', when we are together
An endless sky the light in your eye
A little feel in the dark, for the beautiful spark

And now I'm grateful for the storm
That ever brought me to your door
Any breeze that brought me to my knees
There's always been a beautiful sky
Its just there's some clouds in my eyes
I was wild but I need you to be free

Ever it is it ain't mine to name it
Ever it is it ain't mine to claim it
What will be I'm certain I don't know

We have today and that is forever
Life after life', when we are together
An endless sky the light in your eye
A little feel feel in the dark, for the beautiful spark

Big blue sky, behind the clouds of our eyes
A little feel in the dark, for the beautiful spark

Whatever this is, whatever this is
Whatever this is, whatever this is Whatever...
Whatever this is...
