

Ted's Waltz

Beth Orton

If we should meet again on some darkened street pack in it all
and heed to the call beat a drum to decide on a sketch or design
can you see to the light of bare winter night

And wipe out the sun from your eyes
that vicious sky
wipe out the sun from your eyes cos some sleep to lie.

See the way you are
feel the way you move

So sweet, so deep,
the sum of it all
So deep so sweet
I see you again.

Once you feel something real let me know, let it show I could be your honey and let it go, there you go.
And if you should need me through someone else's eyes and if into me you see more than disguise.
I come down to your knees and if ears could speak I like to think what they'd say to inspire Your sweetest desire and since I first met you I found the love I lost It's just like you
looks just like you

You move,
so sweet so deep
the sum of it all
so deep so sweet
I see you again

If we should meet again
in some darkened room
I hope to my soul
it could be soon
beat a path to my side a sketch for design
can you see through the light to bear winter night
some sleep to lie

See the way you are
so deep, so cool
you burn through it all it's the shape of your hand a tone I understand
you move.

See you again, see you again...
