

Honestly

Bethany Joy Lenz

Honestly I didn't mean to cry so hard the heartache was pouring in like rain
I didn't mean to show I care
Honestly I didn't mean to laugh so loud but it just sounds so absurd to say that you want me
Say that you need me after everything you've done Really truly I didn't mean to hurt you I just thought that maybe now
We'd have better luck the second time around It's always better the second time I hear

Find me in the evening when you're ready to dance
And I will take you to places where you never thought you'd have the chance to love
Love
Love is all we have
I will run myself in circles here without you

Please believe that I tried my best to forget you but the memories keep flooding back like tears
I didn't mean to fall in love
But sitting here waiting for this is torture
I'm so glad you're far away
Is that a terrible thing to say?
Well, I wonder if you're ok

Find me in the evening when you're ready to dance
the chance to love
Love
Love is all we have
I will run myself in circles here without you
Oh, I would run myself in circles here without you Oh I've tried and tried
And I can't hide from your love
Darlin' it's too late to show me your intentions
You know we've got to find a way to get past all the implications, every situation
Every complication that we've come from
Love is all we have

Darlin' love, love
Love is all we have
