

Close Your Eyes

Beto Vázquez Infinity

Close your eyes
and you'll see an imaginary world Remember that when you open them up it will fade away.
Hear the sound of the night,
and when time passes by you will find yourself.
When the sun shines your dreams will fade and it will set a new beginning Look at the moonlight, and your instincts will tell you what to do.
Remember that a million stars are sometimes together and yet they remain lonely and cold.

Enjoy the taste of Death,
Don't fear it when you sense its presence Close your eyes and remember that your time here someday will be the guide for others
