

Memories Of Reinglow

Beto Vázquez Infinity

In the night, when pain starts to hurt, all the colours turn into deep grey and past lives feelings rise once again

Furious winds blow in Reinglow, Leaving free thoughts of justice with the hope to open people eyes to truth.
Hiding the history of a city where only Kanled will save them.

Angels promise that
All the kingdom of Reinglow
Will be protected forever.

At the beginning, it was a territory
Under the forces of a tyrant called Sleeter, Nobody could dare say a word.

Reinglow
Kingdom
Save me

We need a change, nobles said
A man with good heart and courage would be chosen to be the guide and to fight the evil forces that were oppressing Reinglow.

Several centuries passed by for all this to become true,
The knowledge of generations lies in our past.
And we will always remember that we were forever released from our suffering.

In memory of the past
They will never be forgotten those that fought for their ideals.
They will always live in our hearts.

Reinglow, holy and free land you are Angels promise they will protect you,
Forevermore
