

The Tunnel Of The Souls

Beto Vázquez Infinity

The glances are crossed and the thoughts arise
Today I feel desire to live
I wish you were here with me to spend this time at your side...
to spend this time at your side...

Sometimes the time goes by very quickly and we did not repair in some of our acts
It would be important that in any place
You could connect with me...

In the tunnel of souls I will see you
Then I will tell you how much I love you
You always had faith, the tunnel already arrives
Then we will see known faces, we will return to laugh
There will be no pain, the tears will not be, they belong to the past...

I will always remember your warm hands
Your love towards me only left good memories
I know that you are well, in the tunnel of souls I will find you
I am sure of that...
