Hey Madalyn Why are you shooting rubber bands To scare away the lions Tell it to Ann Rand

Hey Nietzsche boy What got in your head Turns out you were wrong And only Freddie's dead

You have more faith than me You have more faith than me

Hey David Hume Your statements make me pause You don't believe in miracles You just believe in first cause

Hey Jean Paul Write another play The truth exists and so do you And you can't make that go away

We did not follow myths
We did not follow lies
Proof of the resurrection
Stands before your eyes
Professing to be wise
They have become fools
External power have been seen
You are without excuse

Hey Charles Darwin
It's a natural selection
If it's there and no one can see it
It escapes detection

Hey Mr. Skinner
I hear you today
It doesn't matter if it's true
You had to say it anyway
