

Born To Give

Better Than a Thousand

My heart is covered; passion always tugging at my mind
Although we search for freedom, It seems that we get more confined

Narcissism, fucking prison-selfishness the crime
Shackled by our cruelty, but I'll practice being kind

BORN TO GIVE

We take, we fucking take!

BORN TO GIVE

But we create our fate!

I know the more we serve ourselves we're never satisfied
And if you're brought up sensitive they'll probably deride
You must choose your destiny, for only you decide
So let the people criticize-I know I've fucking tried

BORN TO GIVE

We take, we fucking take!

BORN TO GIVE

But we create our fate!

I tried to be so into me
But it turns out so unsatisfying

I want to be the person that I know I am deep inside
I may not seem so cool, but all that shit's a lie
Throw away my ego, and all my foolish pride
This life is meant for giving, so I'll never fucking hide

BORN TO GIVE

We take, we take, we take, we take, we take!

BORN TO GIVE

And we create our fate!

We must learn from our mistakes
