When my best friend said she had lost her man To her babysitter I thought she was lying I said no 16 year old schoolgirl Could ever take a man of mine

Staying home with our baby all the time It kept me kind of broken hearted So I went and hired myself a babysitter And that's when my trouble all started

This 16 year old chick walked in With a skirt up to her waist She had a truckload of you know what And all of it in place

Should have been aware of the babysitter
Oh yeah yeah
I should have known from the jump yeah
She was a man getter
I should have been aware of the babysitter
I should have known from the jump yeah
She was a man getter yes she was

When I found exactly what was going on There wasn't much that I could do The babysitter had his heart and soul And all of his money too

I should have been aware of the babysitter
I should have known from the jump yeah
She was a man getter
So girls if you want your man
And no one else
Buy yourself some sizzle pants
And babysit your baby yourself

Beware girls you better beware Of the babysitter Rock rock your baby Rock rock rock your baby...
