Sweet Sacrilege Our Night

Beyond the Void

The sun shall melt away The end of day Twilight has begun I feel it stir inside

A glow we hide In dusk to lead us on I feel it take my reigns And ride my veins

As darkness is reborn I take those tears from your eyes Grind them and fling them away

Farewell to light Reborn to night We left a life as cold as ice To blaze inside

In here your velvet skin shall not resist Your sinful hearts deluge Black scissors dream a scarlet stream Sweet sacrilege our night

One for the red of hearts The grin of shards To strike the reigns of sin One for the black inside

To learn tonight Pleasure does know Your name I know despite all words And deep-set hurt This moment you are mine

Farewell to light Reborn to night We left a life as cold as ice To blaze inside

In here your velvet skin shall not resist Your sinful hearts deluge Black scissors dream a scarlet stream Sweet sacrilege our night
