

Suddenly Strange

Bic Runga

Fire, inside my shoes
Still walking forward but back to you
I 'spose I just be stuck with you again
This joke is wearing thin
I know it's time, I know it's time to go

Just so you know
This secret part of you never showed
And when you run around like you don't care
I'm suddenly aware
I know it's time, I know it's time

It's suddenly strange
I can hardly complain
I'm down the stairs and out the door
It's suddenly colder
It bowled me right over
I'm down again
I suppose it's over now

Don't ask me how
It didn't take much to figure out
And you know I'll go acting really tough
And giving back your stuff
I know it's time, I know it's time

And you know I'll go acting really tough
And giving back your stuff
I know it's time, I know it's time
