

No I'm Not Down

Biffy Clyro

Bless your heart but your soul's declined
Find a wall that we can climb
My body shakes to it's fingertips
A sensitive soul with a Molotov grin

A fatal fall in the freezin' snow
Who's the bravest idiot you know?
My arms felt numb and my brain is slowin'
My heart has smashed
But more than that oh

My back's against the wall
This is between me and God
Our future's lookin' colder
With no one else around

Well my boy had a real good time
This is not my state of mind
Could I know it would never come
But my heart's gone cold
And my mind is numb so

My back's against the wall
This is between me and God
Our future's lookin' colder
With no one else around

Even as I say this I know
There's no one you can call to help
I know your list goes on and on
And it's a neverending star

Bless your heart but your soul's declined
Find a wall that we can climb
My body shakes to it's fingertips
A sensitive soul with a Molotov grin

A fatal fall in the freezin' snow
Who's the bravest idiot you know?
My arms felt numb and my brain is slowin'
My heart has smashed
But more than that

My back's against the wall
This is between me and God
Our future's lookin' colder
With no one else around

My back's against the wall (My back's against the wall)
My back's against the wall (My back's against the wall)

And even as I say this
There's no one you can call
There's no one you can call
