

The Journey

Big Country

Don't be afraid to make this journey
Here with me

There's no disgrace, no guilt or shame
In having faith
To feel the same
To live again
It's all right to dream

There is a land, there is a sea
There is a place where we can be
There is a hope, there is a dream

Sometimes
You gotta make the journey with me

There will be hurt, there will be pain
There will be a lot of tears, a lot of joy
What we have left cannot be destroyed

Time to move on, to let it bleed
What will be, will be

There is a land, there is a sea
There is a place where we can be
There is a hope, there is a dream

Sometimes
You gotta make the journey with me

(Uh-oh-oh-oh)

Arms to hold you
Right by your side
Always with you now
Tonight

There is a land, there is a sea
There is a place where we can be
There is a hope, there is a dream

Sometimes
You gotta make the journey with me

Sometimes
(You gotta make the journey)

(Sometimes) Sometimes
(You gotta make the journey)

(Sometimes) Sometimes
(You gotta make the journey)

(Sometimes) Sometimes, Sometimes
(You gotta make the journey)

(Sometimes) Some-some-sometimes

You gotta make the journey
(You gotta make the journey)