

What You Believe

Big Drill Car

At the corner stand there stands a man
With a small ball and three shells
There's a sucker that turns in regret like the stories he can tell (spins)

Ask again and you'll get no answer
Save your RSVP
The relevance is of no importance
So you'll believe in what you want to

I'd love to bask can't believe you'd ask
Can I warm up in your glow
My lone abuse is my excuse just thought I'd let you know
And the runnin sound from the underground I told you of before
Remains at ease and with god speed the ship was on the shore

Ask again and you'll get no answer
Save your RSVP
The relevance is of no importance
So you'll believe in what you want to believe, yeah
Ask again and you'll get no answer
Believe in what you want to believe
Ask again and you'll get no answer
Save your RSVP
The relevance is of no importance
So you'll believe in what you want to

A friend of mine once took the time to explain it in this way
In defense of this, so infamous just got to get away
And the runnin sound from the underground I told you of before
Remains in tact and so in fact just looking for the door

Ask again and you'll get no answer
Save your RSVP
The relevance is of no importance
So you'll believe in what you want to believe
Believe in what you want to believe
I know you'll believe in what you want to believe
Believe in what you want to believe, yeah
