Personal Judgement Day

Big Tent Revival

Gonna be a hot time on the old town tonight We're goin out; gonna do it up right But in the middle of a casual grin--In the blink of an eye, He's coming again Don't have to listen to what I say Don't have to bow your head and pray But your personal judgement day Is only a breath away

Accepted Jesus at Forty-Five Said "Man I'm glad to be alive All my friends are dead you see And one bad trip and it could've been me"

The bible talks about a book of names--Souls rescend from the flames So brother tell me, when it all is through

Do you know Jesus, and does He know you?
