

Motionless

Big Wreck

When your shadow's still on this path of mine
More than I care to say
How much must I reveal and write
Before it dissipates

And some draw the line from wrong to right
But there's always a whisper, becomes a shout

I've been trying to fit in
I never know where to begin
It's easier for me
To be kinda motionless

Your reflection rests upon the shore
As that lighthouse fades away
We both know it's wrong, now it's fight or flight
How can I count the ways

So let's draw a line in the sand tonight
But there's always a reason we're never awake
I don't want to go out, but I just can't stay

I've been trying to fit in
I never know where to begin
It's easier for me
To be kinda motionless

As a flower to the wall
I'd rather not be noticed at all
It's natural for me
To be kinda motionless

We hung there 'til we fall down
We let go of lines again
I'll hold on and slide it down
Just let me go

I've been trying to fit in
I never know where to begin
It's easier for me
To be kinda motionless

As a flower to the wall
I'd rather not be noticed at all
It's natural for me
To be kinda motionless
