

Lost for Now

Bilal

Here comes another sunrise
Traveling on this road again
This the story of a broken heart
Looking for an angel to call
The shooting star that light the way
I've been moving alone
And driving for a while
Just lost from now

It's me alone on this ride
And in the day I don't mind
But I stay up, I stay up
It gets cold at night
I need somebody to hold
I gotta learn how to be
On my own

Some time being, start new
Feel like I got nothing
I got nothing left to do
I'm riding out of town
Oh, this hoping, get in the way

Can you take all the pain away
Make this heart brand new, yeah
Teach me how to love again
Make everything alright
You got a style that changes everything
