

As Much As I Love You

Bill Anderson

As much as I love you
I don't understand you, oh girl
It's almost as though you prefer me to them
Just on the fringe of your world

As much as I love you
You're costing me part of my mind
What am I supposed to do with the part of me
That you don't want but part of the time

As much as I love you
Why do you lock me outside
And only let me in every now and then
What are you trying to hide

As much as I love you
I don't understand how you think
Don't you know that it's wrong turnin' me off and on
Like water you pour down the sink

As much as I love you
It's cold on my side of the bed
It's been another day of bein' pushed away
And I don't know what I've done or said

As much as I love you
I'm lying here wondering why
I don't take off my ring
Pack up my things leave and don't even say goodbye
Mhm, mhm
