

Country Song

Bill Anderson

I didn't know that losing her
Would be so hard to take
I never thought her memory
Would be so hard to shake

Or that just one little flash of her
Could make my day go wrong
Kinda makes me wanna
Sing a country song

A country song loud and clear
With lots of crying in the beer
A country song loud and clear
With lots of crying in the beer

It's hard to know the story line
Of a book that's halfway read
And it's hard to leave a love undone
And things all left unsaid

But it's not so hard to hate yourself
When you've been up all night long
Kinda makes you wanna
Sing a country song

A country song loud and clear
With lots of crying in the beer
A country song loud and clear
With lots of crying in the beer

A country song loud and clear
With lots of crying in the beer
A country song loud and clear
With lots of crying in the beer
