

You Couldn't Even Light His Candle

Billie Jo Spears

As soon as you found out that he was out of town
You thought that just for old time sake you could come around One look in your eye tells me that you came to bring shame into our home

With heaven my witness I want you to write something down

You couldn't even light his candle

Or strike the match that's started the fire that's burning just for him

I'm his and only his to touch or handle and you couldn't even l ight his candle
