

It All Comes Down To You

Billie Myers

The smell of your hair, the touch of your skin
It's with me everywhere, can't get away from it
The sound of your voice echoes all around
I try to sleep but you are even in my dream
I'm a fan always

It all come down to you, yeah
Everything I do, yeah
Everything I see, you're always here with me
What can I do?
It all comes down to you, yeah you

I try to let go, try to break free
There's something in you, it's got such a hold on me
How was I to know you'd go so deep?
I try to think, but you are all that comes to mind
All the time, always

It all come down to you, yeah
Everything I do, yeah
Everything I see, you're always here with me
What can I do?
It all comes down to you, yeah you

Well I try to be strong but you still get me weak
All it takes is just one touch and I can hardly speak
I just looked into your eyes and I fell in so deep
It's not up to me, it's not up to me

It all come down to you, yeah
Everything I do, yeah
Everything I see, you're always here with me
What can I do?
It all comes down to you, yeah you

It all comes down to you, yeah you
It all comes down to you, it all comes down
It all comes down to you, oh yeah
Everything I do, everything I see
Everywhere I go you're always here with me
Every piece of me falls deeper into you
It all comes down, all comes down
It all comes down to you

(Down to you, down to you)
(Down to you, down to you)
(Down to you, down to you)
(Down to you, down to you)
