Can't you hear your heart it's talking to your brain A little voice inside you keeps calling out her name You can only lose if You start to hesitate

So why ignore an open door Showing you the way

A heart can't shake it
When it feels that rush
A heart can't fake it
When it needs that touch
A magic potion, locomotion
You can't ever stop
A heart can't take it when
She's everything you want

You can't stop your feet from Walking to her door
Everytime you leave her
You keep on wanting more
You think you're in control but
Who're you trying to kid

When you're on your knees, begging please Give me one more kiss

A heart can't shake it
When it feels that rush
A heart can't fake it
When it needs that touch
A magic potion, locomotion
You can't ever stop
A heart can't take it when
She's everything you want

She's everything, she's everything, she's everything you need She's everything, she's everything, she's all you ever dreamed Can't play it cool, acting like a fool When you're trying to deny You'd do anything, everything To be by her side

A heart can't shake it
When it feels that rush
A heart can't fake it
When it needs that touch
A magic potion, locomotion
You can't ever stop
Well a heart can't take it when
She's everything you want

A heart can't take it when She's everything you want
