

A Place For The Heartache

Billy Joe Royal

Silence, starein' through my window pane
That old gray sky has started to rain
And loneliness growin' as the music plays
Oh, I can't go on missing you this way

I'm gonna find a place for the heartache
A place I can leave my blues behind
I'm gonna find a place for the heartache
And soon (soon I'm gonna) I'm gonna love again

I'm so tired, pretendin' what will never be
It's been too late so long for you and me
And it's so hard turnin lose from all our dreams
When they were so close we could almost see

I'm gonna find a place for the heartache
A place I can leave my blues behind
I'm gonna find a place for the heartache
And soon (soon I'm gonna) I'm gonna love again

I'm gonna find a place for the heartache
And soon (soon I'm gonna) I'm gonna love again
And soon I'm gonna love again