

Forgot To Forget

Billy Ray Cyrus

I forgot to forget
now I live to regret
like when we walked away all the words I didn't say could've changed things I did.
Now I try to break down,
that our love could've end though I swore I wouldn't or recall the day we met
I forgot to forget.

I forgot to forget
your love alone,
now memory has said,
on your grace and charm I never look at the moon, or think of the star we laugh at her beating in my heart

I forgot to forget
now I live to regret
like when we walked away
all the words I didn't say
could've changed things I did.
Now I try to break down,
or recall the day we met
I forgot to forget.

Set me free, set me free, set me free

I am a look at the moon, or think of the star well now that hurt, we can heart

I forgot to forget
now I live to regret
could've changed things I did.
Now I try to break down,
or recall the day we met
I forgot to forget.
Though I never would've bet how my mind is so sad
I forgot to forget.
Now my memory is gonna.. and the heart is wanna get 'cause I forgot to forget

Oh I forgot to forget.
