One candle burns brightly, it flickers and it almost dies like me Alone against the wind But this moment has magic, it's keeping that flame alive As we hold on to the night

There'll be another day, we'll have another chance But not like this, no, nothing can compare To the way that I feel right now Do you feel the same way I do? Tell me

How strong, how strong do you want it to be? How do, how do you wanna hear it from me? How long, how long, and baby, tell me how deep? How much love do you want from me?

Somebody must have scared you
Left you wounded and afraid to love again
You are just like me
'Cause nobody ever held me so close, so desperately
And I, I never held anybody like you

There'll be another day, we'll have another chance But not like this, no, nothing can compare To the way that I feel right now Do you feel the same way I do? Tell me

How strong, how strong do you want it to be? How do, how do you wanna hear it from me? How long, how long, and baby, tell me how deep? How much love do you want from me? How much love do you want from me?

One tender moment is all I need This world's gone crazy, baby Shelter me, you gotta shelter me

There'll be another day, we'll have another chance But not like this, no, nothing can compare To the way that I feel right now Do you feel the same way I do? Tell me

How strong, how strong do you want it to be? How do, how do you wanna hear it from me? How long, how long, and baby, tell me how deep? How much love do you want from me?

How strong, how strong do you want it to be? How do, how do you wanna hear it from me? How long, how long, and baby, tell me how deep? How much love do you want from me? How much love do you want from me?

How much? How much?
How much love do you want from me?
