

Somebody Said A Prayer

Billy Ray Cyrus

Just a single mom raisin up the kids

Little Tommy's seven now and her daughter Justine just turned ten

Pinchin every cent laughin and lovin and content

You would never think a couple years ago she almost let her job, her kids, her mind, her life go up in smoke right there on the edge right before the fall

Chorus: Somebody said a prayer somebody had some faith somebody finally hit their knees and asked for help for heavens sake so somebody finally found someone who really cares somebody said a prayer

He was seventeen and his heart was broke.

The middle of the night, a bottle full of pills, and a goodbye note Sittin on his bed, but then he bowed his head. Now I see him every week and every now and then he talks about that night.

And the peace that came over him talk about a sign.

Can I get an amen well there were tears on his face he said look what happened lord

Chorus: Somebody said a prayer somebody had some faith somebody finally hit their knees and asked for help for heavens sake somebody finally found someone who really cares

somebody said a prayer

*Repeat chorus

Can I get an amen Ohhhhhhhh can I get an amen Ohhhhhhhhhh somebody somebody said a prayer somebody said a prayer somebody somebody said a prayer
