

The Beginning

Billy Ray Cyrus

That day
The day that you walked through
My life story
Every need that I
Was praying for
Was gone

I love
I love that you love me
For who I am
And I smile because
That ring on your hand
Means I'm a lucky man

Cause I know what I've been living for all this time
And I swear
I could die right now
Having lived a life
And just think
It was only
The beginning

That night
The night our little girl
Would change our life
You looked up at me
And cried and smiled
As we held our child

I fell
I fell in love with her
Blue eyes and curls
And I swear to god
There's nothing in this world
I won't do for that girl

Cause I know what I've been living for all this time
And I swear
I could die right now
Having lived a life
And just think
It was only
The beginning

Now the kids will grow up
And grow kids of their own
And the day will come
When I'll be gone
When there's nothing left
For pictures and stories
I pray that they'll know who to give the glory

Cause I know
What I've been living for all this time
And I swear
If I die right now
I've lived a life

And just think
When I see
Oh just think
You know I'll be
Oh just think
When I'm standing in his grace

It is only
The beginning
