

You

Binocular

You you're everything I ever wanted to
Be when you're here with me I just want to lose
Me in your love that rises to the sun
And says everything I never could think of

In silence we rise and we fall here for today then were gone

But you you'll always be my only real friend
I said you I know you'll always be there 'till the end
They may say I'm holding onto something from the past
'cause they know that nothing in this life will ever last

In silence we rise and we fall here for today then were gone
In the time that we take to look back
These days and these moments have passed

I've been running down the mountain side alone
I've been stuck out in the rain and in the cold
I've been going down lonely streets
I've been climbing up the mountain

'Cause you you're everything I ever wanted to
Be when you're here with me I just want to lose

In silence we rise and we fall here for today then were gone
In the time that we take to look back
These days and these moments have passed
Then we're gone
