Bis

not really sure what I am looking for a destiny that leaves you wanting so much more I need to stop putting it before me I'm s traying but I know I've not lost it transparent but I know what I am (so near) so why don't I liste n to what you're saying to me convenient but I have no function It's just routine but there is no corruption nail me down, I know my head's not here bring it back, the end' s starting today will you leave this party with me we were not invited anyway

I have a path but I can't keep to it (no way) I followed it and don't know where it took me (nowhere) I don't talk back or eve n question the odd one out but kept my involvement

nail me down, I know my head's not here bring it back, the end' s starting today will you leave this party with me we were not
invited anyway

(nail me down) (nowhere) (nowhere)
