

Inhale The Sulfur

Black Comedy

Well let's all celebrate because another war has just begun
A cause so holy that no one would ever dare leave it undone
This isn't just an acute gesture of national self-preservation
Disprove all critics of our proud nation
To this unwarranted attack we resolutely respond
Prove to the world that no one can piss on our lawn
Hey! Who doesn't know that we're vulnerable as everybody else?
And we know that security is what truly sells

No need to moralize, we know that everyone will be on our side
We'll sacrifice a few good men, but they'll weigh up for what we idealize
It becomes all the more easy when we paint the world in black and white
Assurance of who's with or against - an undeniable right
It's self-evident the spirit of unity that's the ideal
And to support the leadership with true patriotic zeal
Attention - aggression - concentration - to kill

My name is Uncle Sam and I think I can solve your problems
Model on my own land, home of the free, capital and religion
Never mind the rest of the whole world; we'll do as we fking please
And those who're against us we'll eliminate with the greatest ease
Don't... say...
We are what's freedom
Don't... say...
If not against then with them
Don't... say...
Truth is sold
Don't... say...
We are in control

Hear me! What splendor, a consolation for terror
Fear them! This is your shell of hollow pride

My name is Uncle Sam and I think I can solve your problems
Model on my own land, home of the free, capital and religion
Never mind the rest of the whole world; we'll do as we fking please
And those who're against us we'll eliminate with the greatest ease
Don't... say...
Democracy
Don't... say...
Equality

Don't... say...
Land of the free
Don't... say...
Man above cause
Inhale the sulfur!
