Sista Jane

Black Country Communion

Do you feel You've been to war? You say you like it But you could not leave Got a multiple ovation You burn the light And you do receive I'll be gone 2morrow Sometimes I gotta' Go away Maybe the line is wider baby Gonna' take that fast train You have tried To go the distance But you just can't get No release You will fade to black Your mind will crack It's all you're livin' for And I am breakin' please

Sweet Sista Jane Sure like the Pain You will remain Sweet Sista Jane

You get your faith
And your therapy
But your mind's spun
A lie in your head
And you're full
Of contradiction
You never heard
A word that I said
I can stay until the mornin'
You know the hour
Is late
Now you're walkin' on a wire
Don't it make your big day

You have tried
To go the distance
But you just can't get
No release
You will fade to black
Waitin' for the world to crack
It's all you're livin' for
And I am breakin' please

Sweet Sista Jane Sure like the Pain You will remain Sweet Sista Jane

(You've got your faith and your therapy)
(Your mind's spun a lie in your head)

You have tried
To go the distance
But you just can't get
No release
You will fade to black
Your mind will crack
It's all you're livin' for
And I am breakin' please

Sweet Sista Jane Sure like the Pain You will remain Sweet Sista Jane
