

Something You Don't Know

Black Lab

You bear down live your life in the trenches You take whatever you get I see you and I swing for the fences hand you that homemade cassette Well, pray hard, pray to your gods when nothing else seems to pay off I've got a rare gift and I'm willing to give it I'd like to go for a walk

You're a ghost town and maybe I'm a ghost
But I will follow as deep as it goes

There's something inside
to eat its way out from the middle
From the back of your mind
it kills you
There's something you don't know
Something you don't know
I'll go wherever you go

Don't flash that innocent look, you give as good as you get,
and I might need a room for the night.
Yeah, somewhere bury my head Don't let go, go easy on me
Don't let yourself tear us apart There's a strange land hidden inside us and no one knows what's in your heart

There's a party down your rabbit hole I'll go down as far as it goes

There's something inside
to eat its way out from the middle
From the back of your mind
it kills you.
There's something you don't know
Something you don't know
I'll go wherever you go.
Something you don't know
I'll go wherever you go.

There's something inside
to eat its way out from the middle
From the back of your mind
it kills you
There's something you don't know
Something you don't know
