

The Lie

Black Lips

Demon body is about the others
And sent evil armies to fulfill the world
With burning flames and pissing eyes
Sedating you with salacious lies
Leaving burns with acid bath
Through tug and stone, now leaving pass
To the great beyond all from my side
You can cast a side to win a part of my arm

That's what you told me
That's what you told me
That's what you told me so what am I going to do?
That's what you told me
That's what you told me
That's what you told me now I know it's all about you
That's what you told me
That's what you told me
That's what you told me now I'm damned to see it,
Damned to see it through

Eternity is where I'll be, forever now, for all to see
I'm down alive and giving head
I'm upside down, fall through the well
That is much to pay for me
So shoot yourself through prophecies
I'll be back in a different form
To reap what's mine, to lead the born beyond

That's what you told me
That's what you told me
That's what you told me so what am I going to do?
That's what you told me
That's what you told me
That's what you told me now I know it's all about you
That's what you told me
That's what you told me
That's what you told me now I'm damned to see it,
Damned to see it through
