Shadow's Keeper

Black Rebel Motorcycle Club

The shadow's creeping, only one way left to go You hit the bottom where the silence only grows It's never alone

You feel the fire burning sweet within your skin You're holding on to all the branches crashing in It's pulling you in

But you feel the light shine so bright But you feel the light shine so bright

What is the purpose if you feel so incomplete What is the reason if it beats you to your knees What do you keep

Your eyes were wide but there's a world that keeps you blind A painted serpent turning water into wine Seeking light

But you feel the light shine so bright But you feel the light shine so bright

You're begging for the truth but now you've seen too much You're living in your head but never feel their touch And everything was buried by the deep blue sky Help me to breathe 'cause I don't wanna see the light Just tell me to breathe 'cause I don't wanna be denied Just tell me to breathe 'cause I don't wanna be denied

Catch on fire Catch on fire Catch on fire
