Air Dance

Black Sabbath

She sits in silence, in her midnight world Her faded pictures, of her dancing girls Her, distant dreamer, on the seas of time Her happy memories, dancing through her mind

In days of romance She was the queen of dance She'd dance the night away

And as the seasons turn the days to years She holds her pictures, hears the silent cheers The days grow lonely for the dancing queen And now she dances only in her dreams

In days of romance She was the queen of dance She'd dance the night away, away, away, away