Sweet Blasphemy

Black Veil Brides

Through sadness you have taught us to be one with the crowd Unveil the sacred order, hymns of falling down You told the greatest stories, of love and bleeding crowns But to the sick and hungry, you cannot be found

We are young and we are strong Through strength in self we become Something more than they can be I raise my heart and sing!

That I won't believe this lie I know there's something more inside When darkness is all you'll see This is our Sweet Blasphemy

Silence the crooked holy, unchain the tied and bound No time for allegory, one true reigning sound Unite the lonely mourning, a simple servant now We are the only glory, hear us screaming loud

We are young and we are strong I raise my heart and sing!

That I won't believe this lie I know there's something more inside When darkness is all you'll see This is our Sweet Blasphemy

We are young and we are strong Through strength in self we become Something more than they can be This is our Sweet Blasphemy

That I won't believe this lie I know there's something more inside When darkness is all you'll see This is our Sweet Blasphemy

That I won't believe this lie I know there's something more inside When darkness is all you see This is our Sweet Blasphemy
