

World Of Sacrifice

Black Veil Brides

We're a faithful broken promise of the lies
The virtues beaten down into your empty eyes
A saint is not a weapon,
It's a message, a message
I sermon of shame of demon that you want to blame
Sale you, change you...leave you in a world of flames
Pain is not a blessing,
It's a lesson, a lesson

Don't bow down to a world of hate
From your cradle to the grave

Cause even if you've sacrifice beliefs to get through
And even if you take the side of lies over truth
Every day (every day), the world will take what you give in to
So hold on to every breath of life, in a world of sacrifice

A personal slave, the one you left to die in vain
Sold you changed, you taught you all their selfish ways
Faith becomes an addiction, not ambition

Don't bow down to a world of hate
From your cradle to the grave

Cause even if you've sacrifice beliefs you can't prove
And even if you take the side of lies over truth
Every day (every day), the world will take what you give in to
So hold on to every breath of life, in a world of sacrifice

Hold on, in a world of sacrifice
Hold on, til your last breath is gone
Hold on, in a world of sacrifice
Hold on, til your last breath is gone

Cause even if you've sacrifice beliefs to get through
And even if you take the side of lies over truth
Every day (every day), the world will take what you give in to
So hold on to every breath of life, in a world of sacrifice

In a world of sacrifice
In a world of sacrifice